Fantasia Jacket

I had the pleasure of seeing the Fantasia Jacket created by Kayla, at the American Sewing Expo last September. It was constructed of embroidered tulle with lots of embellishment. The model accidentally wore it inside out on the runway but no one noticed as the gossamer confection looked equally scrumptious on both sides. Make it in a sheer crisp fabric for an other-worldly look or a soft drapey rayon for a down-to-earth garment. Edges serged with rayon embroidery thread will give it a special touch of glamour. Price for the Fantasia Jacket pattern: $19.00 each.

The Daily News Bag—New from the Sewing Workshop Collection

This large bucket bag is soft, slouchy and easy to carry in one of three lengths – hobo, shoulder or messenger. Use it as a tote with another bag inside or as your primary handbag. Either way, make one in a basic all-purpose fabric and make another one in an outrageous color that screams “notice me”. Pattern includes instructions, pattern, and measurements for a Daily News Bag. Price for The Daily News Bag pattern: $12.00 each.

The Travel Skirt returns

I had stopped carrying The Travel Skirt pattern awhile ago. Not because I didn't love it, but because I thought demand had dropped away. Well, I was wrong. Every show, people ask me for the pattern and they buy Bali batik rayon to make it in. So a new supply is on it's way from Kathryn Brenne and will be up on the website shortly. Price for The Travel Skirt pattern: $12.00 each.
